Get a profitable opportunity from currency price movements with very attractive daily price fluctuations. If the standard forex contract size is $100,000 per lot, ICDX Forex micro contracts allow you to start trading at $ 1,000 per lot.

Micro ICDX Forex contracts use a margin of around 1.5% of the contract value to enable leverage at a ratio of around 60: 1. In other words, a 1% price movement will have a 60% effect on the margin value.

But it doesn't always have to be this way.

What if we tell you that you can benefit from both the rise and fall of the economic situation?

Sweep the profit from the price movement that happens along with the changing economic situation through trading!

Why trade commodity with GOFX?

Commodities are interlinked globally. This characteristic creates a liquid market in which prices are difficult to manipulate, so anyone could access and participate in the market. Besides, commodity cycles are of longer term with fewer variables to monitor.

With GOFX, anyone can access the global commodity market and be relieved from the hassles of physical delivery or storage of the commodity.

Gold

Gold is known as a safe haven asset that is able to hedge against inflation. The price of gold is determined by supply and demand, creating a fair and transparent market. With the constantly changing value, gold provides potential opportunities for traders!

The ICDX Spot Gold micro contract provides easy access to own gold without worrying about physical gold storage. This micro contract is also affordable because the ICDX Spot Gold micro contract starts from 1 troy ounce per lot, while the standard gold contract consists of 100 troy ounces per lot.

The ICDX Spot Gold micro contract uses a margin of around 1.5% of the contract value (the deposit required to maintain open positions) to enable leverage at a ratio of around 60: 1. In other words, a 1% price movement will have a 60% effect on the margin value.
